SPRING 2015

New Playing: Employer Engagement Initiatives

Some people say that the definition of insanity is doing the same thing over and over again and expecting different results. When this happens, the organization has to learn or grow. In the Spring Quarter, we have created some Employer Engagement Initiatives that will help us to learn and grow.

Both employers and students will benefit from these new initiatives. The ultimate goal is to work with the employers to create meaningful connections with our students. With the support of the Center for Career Success, we are now ready to launch these initiatives. Through the career mentorship program, we will continue to connect students with career mentors in their respective industries. This spring, the career mentorship program will include employer mentors as well. This will provide our students with a chance to learn about the industry and to gain valuable connections with employers. In addition, we will also launch a new career networking event. This event will bring together employers and students in a socially engaging setting. The event will offer students a chance to network with employers and to learn about the different career opportunities available in their field. By participating in these initiatives, we are confident that we will be able to provide our students with valuable opportunities to learn about the industry and to make meaningful connections with employers.

New Employer Outreach Specialist

We are excited to announce the hire of a new Employer Outreach Specialist! This individual will be responsible for expanding our employer network and for promoting our career services. The new specialist will develop strong relationships with employers and will work collaboratively to identify and integrate career services into the organization. We are confident that this new position will help us to reach a broader audience and to increase the visibility of our programs.
