Sample Timeline

Junior Year and Senior Summer
- Determine which type of graduate program best fits your career goals
- Research specific graduate programs of interest. Look at admissions and financial aid applications
- Take required examinations (may also take again in fall)
- Attend the Graduate and Professional School Fair

Senior Year

September
- Continue researching graduate programs of interest
- Find out when graduate transcripts must be sent and what other materials are required
- Check applications for specific deadlines
- Register for required entrance exams

October
- Talk to graduate recruiters visiting the campus or in the area
- If possible, visit the schools in which you are interested. Talk with admissions staff, department faculty, and/or current graduate students
- Request letters of recommendation
- Write personal statement

November
- Begin preparing your financial aid application. These are often required at the same time or earlier than admissions applications

December
- Some admissions applications might be due this month
- Check on your transcripts and letters of recommendations to see that they have been sent

January
- Last chance to take the required tests for fall admissions (it may be too late for some schools)
- Check with each school to see that they have received all the materials, including test scores and financial statements

February (or after sending off applications)
- Wait to hear whether you have been accepted
- Continue to make contact with representatives of the schools to which you applied and check on the progress of your applications

---

Avoid losing letters or asking professors to write letters to numerous schools by storing your letters online.

Try services like Interfolio (interfolio.com)

Grad School Advising
- Literature on admissions and programs
- “Applying to Graduate School” workshop
- “Applying to Law School” workshop
- GRE, GMAT, LSAT, and MCAT test info
- Grad School Fair, Law School Fair (Fall)

Health Professions Grad School Fair (Spring)

Talk to a career counselor to determine some reasons why you were not accepted and decide if you should revisit your goals.

Don’t give up - students are sometimes accepted on their second or third try, or even later!